

December 5th 1932.

Dear Kathleen:

The calendar people sent me two or three photographs of the painting, so I thought perhaps you might like to have one.

I wish to goodness they knew whether the calendar for 1935 was going to be reproduced in the large size as well as the small, because I don't want to paint "The Princess" if for the small size only. I hope they will know later on, but I suppose it all depends upon the "great depression." If we put off posing until the Spring, promise me solemnly you won't change any.

Sincerely:

Maxfield Parrish:
